

Lynn Gellermann
Adena Ventures

Mr. Gellermann is a founding partner of Adena Ventures and a partner in Woodland Venture Management, a fund development and management company devoted to underserved regions of the nation.

He brings 20 years of banking, venture capital and economic development experience to the Fund. Mr. Gellermann serves on the boards of directors for several of Adena's portfolio companies, including Ed Map, Emergent Game Technologies, Sierra Novo and Game Plan Technologies. He also serves as an advisor to several entities at Ohio University, including the Edison Biotechnology Institute, the Game Research & Immersive Design Lab (GRID Lab) and the Voinovich Center for Leadership and Public Affairs.

Gellermann earned his Bachelor's from Hastings College and his MBA from the University of Colorado.