

R. BROOKS GARBER

Federal Policy Director

National Alliance for Public Charter Schools

R. Brooks Garber is the Federal Policy Director for the National Alliance for Public Charter Schools. Prior to joining the National Alliance, Brooks worked as the Associate Director of Policy at the Center for Education Reform in Washington, DC. Before that, he worked at the Tennessee Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations where he assisted the Legislature in the development of a new education funding formula for the state. Additionally, Brooks has campaign and political experience at both the state and local levels. Mr. Garber has a Bachelor of Science in History and Human and Organizational Development, and a Master's in Public Policy, with an emphasis on education policy, both from Vanderbilt University.