

KEVIN HALL

Chief Operating Officer

The Eli and Edythe Broad Foundation

Kevin Hall is the chief operating officer of The Eli and Edythe Broad Foundation, a national venture philanthropy dedicated to dramatically improving K-12 urban public education through better governance, management, labor relations and competition. Hall oversees operations for the foundation's education portfolio and leads the development of investment opportunities that support and expand charter management organizations, competition, school district redesign efforts, and statewide reform initiatives. Hall also has extensive experience with the charter school landscape, including the developing field of high quality charter management organizations and charter school facilities financing.

Prior to joining The Broad Foundation, Hall was a co-founder of Chancellor Beacon Academies, an organization that manages public charter and private schools across the United States. Previously, Hall worked for McKinsey and Co., Goldman, Sachs and Co. and Teach For America. Hall has classroom experience as both as an elementary school teacher and a Teaching Fellow at Harvard University. He holds an M.B.A. from Harvard Business School.
