- Depleted personal savings (i.e. cost of maintaining two residences, post-storm unemployment, gap in repairs*, contractor fraud and/or mismanagement, etc.)

- An estimated 13.5% of metro New Orleans homeowners suffered contractor fraud. In addition, there was rampant rehab budget and contractor mismanagement.
Road Home Fast Track Program

- City of NO deposited $5MM at Liberty as loan loss reserve, with Liberty committed to 1:4 lending match

- Interest and closing costs paid by the City of NO
Road Home Fast Track Program

- Results: 372 applications, 134 approved, 56 approved and withdrew, 78 loans made, 16 to LMI households

- All $5MM loan loss reserve + interest returned to City of New Orleans by end of 2008

- Lessons learned by Liberty: assuming applicants are creditworthy, rehab budgeting problems and contractor mismanagement prevalent
Gentilly Homeownership Initiative (GHI)

- Launched in JUN 2009, rehab loan program developed by Liberty Bank to assist existing and 1st time homeowners in putting hurricane blighted homes back into full commerce with heavy contractor management services and some subsidy dollars

- Subsidy dollars provided through CDFI FA funds

- Partnership with fellow CDFI = NewCorp, Inc.
Gentilly Homeownership Initiative (GHI)

- NewCorp provided and vetted pool of GHI “qualified” contractors
- Many layers of contractor oversight priced into loans and funded through subsidy
- Direct subsidy provided wherein strong LTVs and stable DTIs present
- 111 applicants, 15 approved, average credit scores 648 – 468 (subsidy only), 62.5% LMI communities
Post-Hurricane Lending Takeaways

- Housing blight caused by economic dislocation or natural disaster has the same face, same impact and some similar resolutions five years later

- Systemic solutions are required to fight large scale blight

- Economic environments aside, housing subsidies (i.e. loan-loss reserves, soft seconds and interest rate buy-downs) and home rehabilitation assistance are effective tools to fight housing blight
