

Innovative Approaches to Solving the Housing Crisis

Friday, August 12, 2016

AGENDA

This forum will explore some of the experimental and smaller scale activities that hold the promise of bringing housing to market sooner. Innovations such as vacant property recapture, pre-fab construction, small sites acquisition and accessory dwelling units are solutions that are poised for immediate adoption. Could these innovations be accomplished on a bigger scale and what would it take? How can we help organizations build capacity to execute these ideas more productively?
